DAVIS THEATRE.

Three Good Acts and Feature Photoplays Including The Million Dollar

An exceptionally strong program of udeville and photoplays is the at-action at this popular theatre for a first half of the week and big first half of the week and big is have been the rule at every rmance. In the feature position or and Grace fill the bill with a European juggling act that is thing different from what the usum of juggling acts purvey. Their is are new and entertaining, speciesery setting the act off to adage. Blondell and Tucker are two r boys who do a neat refined compact introducing singing, talking musical selections. Jimmie Green, other act, is a droll blackface dian who sings and tells stories s other act, is a droll blackface median who sings and tells stories his own inimitable way, introducing lot of local stuff that never fails to ake a hig hit. In the photoplays to-y chapter six of The Million Dol-Mystery is shown, called, The aching Party of the Countess. The eaching Party of the Countess. The eaching finds Braine and the countess counsing their failures. They disver a strange man watching the unters' apartments. Alarmed, they cide they must act quickly. They an another scheme to get not only orence, but Jones too. Florence is vited by the countess to a coaching plan another scheme to get not only Florence, but Jones too. Florence is invited by the countess to a coaching party out to an old mansion—Jones is hivited also. The members of the Black Hundred gather secretly at the mansion to carry out the fiendish plan. On the way the coaching party meet Norton. Fearing he knows not what, he secretly follows. The plot progresses—Florence is lured into the trap—Norton rescues her, aided by Jones. The three start away on horseback, but, being discovered, are immediately pursued. Jones stops and by fearless, hazardous tactics delays the pursuers, while Florence and Norton gallop away.

Never before such amazing action in moving pictures—and more starting portrayal will appear as each episode is shown at this theatra, $16,000 in cash will be given for the best 100 word solution of this great mystery. See the pictures here. Read the story in the paper. Follow the developments ach week. Then send in your solution.

COLONIAL THEATRE.

Perils of Pauline, and Costello Two Reel Feature Today.

is not often that so many stage rities visit the old Colonial theon one day, but today Pauline he stage as is her custom on every Wednesday, but she has to share the her esteemed contemporary, the Costello, who plays Lord Geell worth in the special two reel exre feature ontitled, Etta of the spits. Pauline does not pause in subities, for adventure and does for adventure, nor does the other characters follow in hot characters follow in hot characters follow in hot characters follow in hot characters wherever Pauline leads, and she is a bright shining star in this particular direction or field. Today we shall see her in one of the most thrilling adventures of the series; but soon she will have a real adventure and then we shall see how she will meet it. Can you guess? If you can, some of that $25,000 is yours. In reference to Manifec Costello, his big feature is distinctly a story of stage life, while the balance of the bill includes Love vs. Pride, and Did She Cure Him?

FACE DISFIGURED WITH EGZEMA

Itching and Burning So Bad Scratched and Irritated. Could Not Rest. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Entirely Well.

Lock Box 264, Pittsfield, Me.—"My comma broke out with a rash and was very red. It looked as though the blood was coming through the skin.

The itching and burning wereso bad that I scratched and irritated it until they did my bank to the skin. did my hands up. My face was disfigured so I would not be seen. The itching and burning kept me from rest at night and it seemed as though I would go out of my head.

"I tried a good many things and they seemed to make it worse instead of better. I was told to use Cutiqura Soap and Ointment and the first time I used them I went to bed and had a good night's sleep. I put the Ointment on nights before going to bed and used the Soap to wash with. I was the country and in two weeks and I have not ld go out of my head.

ntirely well in two weeks and I have not been troubled with eczema since." (Signed) Mrs. Leigh B. Trafton, Mar. 20, 1914. Samples Free by Mail

It is so easy to get rid of skin troubles by using Cuticura Soap exclusively and a little Cuticura Ointment occasionally that little Cuticura Ointment occasionally that it is a pity not to do so in all cases of pimples, redness, roughness, itchings and irritations. A single set is often sufficient when all else falls. Although Cuticura Soap (25c.) and Cuticura Ointment (50c.) are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, a sample of each with 32-p. Skin Book will be sent free upon request. Address post-card: Cuticura, Dept. T. Boston...

THREE LEADING CITIZENS. Why does the man go striding 'round With such a haughty air? Why does his manly chest project Till all the people stare? Why is he prouder than the turk-Why is he prouder than the turk-ey destined for the axe? The reason is not far to seek, He's paid an income tax!

Why is that other man so proud,
So bumptious and high-flown?
Why does he view the universe
As if it were his own?
Why is he so vain-glorious,
So lordily and so flip?
His wife and daughters now are on
A European trip!

But why is that man over there But why is that man over there
More supercilious still?
Why does his hauteur fill you with
A fierce desire to kill?
Why does he act as if his name
Were on Fame's shining scroll?
His credit's good, and he has just
Put in his winter's coal!

—Somerville Journal.

Bright sun-kissed hills and clearly shining sky.
With fleecy driftings o'er the spreading blue;
The old tree garlanded in foliage The robin's message and the wood dove's sigh.
The rare arbutus and anemone;
The verdant vines that fondly inter-

Their maiden tendrils in true ecstasy,
Along the winding of the mountain
